Let Me
Introduce My Family!

My name is Dennis Linthicum. My wife, Diane, and I have lived in Klamath County for nearly 14 years. As we celebrate our 30th anniversary, we continue to love living and working in the beautiful Klamath Basin. We have two children, both are college graduates and both are happily married.

I have a BA in Economics from UCLA, and have worked for 30-plus years in large and small-scale software and database application development. I currently support a wide range of clients in both PC and MAC OS environments. Additionally, in May, 2010, I will receive a Master's Degree from Biola University.

The most difficult challenge that faces our county is the danger associated with too much government. The duties that rightfully belong to families and individuals are being slowly eroded by the over-reach of county, state and federal governments. Our government appears to think itself responsible for everything. This is a very dangerous idea.

In fact, this is what led our Founding Fathers to develop the system of checks and balances. Their goal was to prevent abuse from any concentrated single source of governmental authority. Yet, even today, the Legislature, the Executive, and the Judicial branches of government are becoming less and less effective at providing any meaningful restraint.

And... it starts right here, at the county level...

The Status Quo
is NOT Sustainable

For County
 Commissioner

The goal of my candidacy will be to inspire creative private-sector solutions to many of the issues facing Klamath County. I will endeavor to promote personal responsibility and individual liberty because these are essential to personal and corporate prosperity.

Additionally, I will seek to provide accurate constituent representation for projects that support the public good. I will promote the elimination of needless government regulation and intervention for stream-lined economic prosperity in the private-sector. This will lead to increased economic activity and prosperity across all segments of our county. For these opportunities to exist government policy makers must be held accountable for wasteful spending and poor policy decisions.

These goals can only be achieved through a united effort to fully utilize the beautiful and inspiring, natural and human resources that have blessed Klamath County's history.
